Bomb Kills One, Hurts 18 Others Subway Car Blast Clues Are Skimpy

NEW YORK (AP)—A dynamite bomb exploded with a thunderous roar aboard a subway train deep under Harlem Sunday night, killing a young girl and injuring 18 other persons.

Police did not believe it was the work of New York's "Sunday bomber," who has been blamed for four other explosions since Oct. 2.

The bomb had been hidden under a straw-covered seat at the rear of the fifth car of a six-car Independent line express train. The southbound train was halted at the 125th Street station in the heart of Harlem when the bomb exploded.

Car Bulges

The force of the blast bulged out the steel sides of the car, gouged out a two-foot hole in the floor, shattered every window but one. Big chunks of concrete were ripped from the station platform.

About 30 passengers were aboard the fatal car. A girl sitting directly over the bomb, was killed—her legs torn off. Two youths sitting across the aisle were injured critically.

The girl was identified as Sandra Breland, 15, of Brooklyn. Her handbag was blown to bits.

Condell Jones, 18, was just boarding the train when the bomb exploded. He was blown across the platform and onto the southbound local tracks. He suffered head, neck and back injuries.

Leads Skinny

"It looked like the seats blew into the roof," he said.

Police searching the wreckage found a detonating cap, which they said, confirmed that the explosive probably was dynamite.

Leads were skimpy. Two injured youths said they saw a man hurriedly leave the car several stops before it arrived at the 125th Street station. The train's conductor remembered there had been a troublesome passenger who had bothered women passengers before getting off one stop before the blast.

Another in the series of Fire Control Center siren tests will be held at 8 o'clock tonight.

Sirens in all firehouses in the county are sounded from the Fire Control Center, the first Monday of each month and a roll call will be taken of all units to determine if all sirens are operating.

Nearly 67 Million Preparing to Vote

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—With the marathon campaign reaching a crescendo, nearly 67 million Americans prepared today to pick a new president.

Whether their choice in Tuesday's election would be Democratic Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts or Republican Vice President Richard M. Nixon appeared to hinge primarily on the decision of a majority of the voters in the seven largest states.

These states—New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, California and Texas—have 205 of the 269 electoral votes needed for election. To win, either candidate probably will need to carry most of them. New York and California were reported shaded for Kennedy. The rest were listed as doubtful.

Although many of the pollsters and dopesters gave Kennedy the edge, Nixon's partisans maintained outward confidence a last-hour surge would carry their man to narrow victory. Some of Kennedy's backers were talking in terms of an electoral vote landslide.

NO GUNS ALLOWED—Jaime Cruz, 23, is jammed to pavement by a police officer. Another policeman took from him a .25 caliber automatic carried by Cruz at Sen. Kennedy's torchlight parade in Chicago. Cruz denied he intended violence, claimed, in fact, he was voting for Kennedy.

Defy Threats of Dismissal

New York Teachers Tie Up System by Walkout

NEW YORK (AP) — A teachers' strike today crippled New York's school system.

It was the first such walkout in the city's history.

Most of the 837 public schools managed to keep some sort of makeshift program going.

Warned of Dismissal

School Supt. John J. Theobald warned that teachers taking part in the strike face dismissal.

The striking United Federation of Teachers had demanded duty-free lunch periods for teachers, additional sick leave provisions, and salary adjustments for teachers with special training. The Union does not have a contract with the school system.

The Board of Education had agreed in principle to two other demands, a dues checkoff system and steps toward collective bargaining.

Claims 10,000

The union claims it represents 10,000 of the city's 40,000 teachers. In many cases, nonmembers refused to cross picket lines.

Five teachers assigned to the Board of Education headquarters in Brooklyn were suspended after they refused to obey a directive to report for special duty to fill vacancies in Manhattan.

In a speech prepared for delivery at Springfield, Kennedy said: "I believe Mr. Nixon's failure to tell the truth to the American people—or perhaps his failure to understand the truth himself—is a clear demonstration of his incapacity to lead this nation through the troubling and hazardous times ahead."

Five teachers assigned to the Board of Education headquarters in Brooklyn were suspended after they refused to obey a directive to report for special duty to fill vacancies in Manhattan.

Al Shanker, a union official, said more than 5,000 teachers were expected to picket at all high schools and about 200 of 600 elementary schools.

An hour before class time, 40 teachers marched outside Seward Park High School on Manhattan's lower East Side. Six pickets patrolled Dunbar Junior High in the Bronx. They said 60 of 80 teachers there were striking. Eight pickets took up posts at La Salle Junior High in midtown Manhattan.

Only One Reports

At one school, only one of 20 teachers normally on duty by 8:30 a.m. had reported.

Charles Cogen, UFT president, called the strike "a great success."

The union has accused the school board of breaking promises regarding collective bargaining, sick pay benefits and other issues.

The strike coincided with the crash at a highway intersection near Warsaw, Wyoming County. The victims were Mrs. Lulu Dinsinger, 81, and Mrs. Florence Reed, 63, both of Attica, occupants of one car, and five-month-old Mark A. Mosakowski, who was riding in the car of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Mosakowski of Cheektowaga.

Two women died in Glens Falls Sunday when their car plunged from a street and overturned in the Glens Falls Feeder Canal, a little used waterway between Glens Falls and the Champlain Canal. They were Helen A. Brady, 60, of Albany, and Miss Matilda Atiyeh, 56, of Elsmere, an Albany suburb.

The victim of the hunting accident was Roger L. Warner, 24, of Camden. He was shot Sunday north of that Oneida County community after the fire was discovered.

Demands Telecast Fund Data Crowds Applaud His Fiery Speech

By REILMAN MORIN

WITH KENNEDY in New England (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy opened the last day of his presidential campaign today with a charge that Vice President Richard M. Nixon believes that peace can be secured "by parades and visits to the Soviet Union."

He said in Providence, R.I., that the productive power of the United States "put to great purposes" is the only real answer to the struggle with the Communists.

Cites Basic Issue

That, Kennedy said, is the "basic issue" of the campaign.

Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, said estimates indicated that the Republicans are spending $600,000 for television time today. He said this includes Nixon's four-hour question and answer telecast this afternoon and three "choice one-half-hour spots."

"We are demanding to know from the vice president sometime during his telecast what is the origin of these funds and what commitments were made to get them," Salinger said.

Salinger said the $600,000 represents "the largest expenditure for television or radio time on the day before election in history."

The Democratic candidate was using the "give 'em hell" style that he began three days ago. Roaring applause and chanted answers indicated that the crowd liked it.

Urge Work for Peace

Kennedy said to expand peace and freedom "our country has to go back to work again here in the United States."

There are "no short cuts, no easy way, no overnight weekend meeting which will bring a change in the balance of power in the world," he said.

In a speech prepared for delivery at Springfield, Kennedy said: "I believe Mr. Nixon's failure to tell the truth to the American people—or perhaps his failure to understand the truth himself—is a clear demonstration of his incapacity to lead this nation through the troubling and hazardous times ahead."

Dems Expect To Control Both Houses

WASHINGTON (AP)—Barring a big political upset, both houses of Congress are expected to retain Democratic majorities in Tuesday's election.

The Democrats are virtually assured control of the Senate even before the voting starts.

In the House even Democratic partisans generally were willing to concede some Republican gains. But only the most optimistic Republicans would go so far as to predict a GOP majority.

Democratic politicians for the most part estimated they might have a net loss of 10 to 15 seats in the House. Their Republican counterparts insisted their party would have a minimum gain of 25 or 30 seats.

These appraisals assume the popular vote will be fairly close in the presidential race.

A landslide either way in the popular vote could change the picture, but probably not enough to wipe out the Democrats' current 129-vote edge in the House.

All 437 of the House seats are up for grabs, as they are every two years, but only 34 of the Senate's 100 seats are at stake.

Democrats now outnumber Republicans in the House 283 to 154, including vacancies. In the Senate the Democratic margin is 66-34, a 32-vote majority.

Of the 66 Senate seats not involved in Tuesday's election, 43 are held by Democrats, 23 by Republicans.

So even before the voting, the Democrats hold all but eight of the 51 seats needed for a majority.

Some of the eight are already in the bag. Unopposed are John L. McClellan in Arkansas, Richard B. Russell in Georgia, and Strom Thurmond in South Carolina, all Democrats. A. Willis Robertson of Virginia another Democrat, has no Republican opponent. All told, the Democrats count on 10 sure-fire winners in the South.

The 34 Senate seats involved in the election now are held 23 Democrats and 11 Republicans.

In nine states classed as doubtful in the Senate battle, the winning presidential candidate might carry a senator of his own party into office. Democrats now hold seats in Delaware, Missouri, Montana, Oregon, West Virginia and Wyoming, while Republicans are incumbents in Colorado, Iowa and Idaho.

Kills 2 Daughters, Spares Son, Turns Gun on Himself

FRANKLINVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—Police said a father shot his two young daughters to death Sunday night, then killed himself. He spared his 19-month-old son, who was found unharmed in his crib.

The victims of the reported murder-suicide in this Cattaraugus County community were James G. Williams, 33, owner of a midtown bowling alley, and his daughters, Kathleen, 11, and Rebecca, 6.

Police said they found the other Williams child, Kenneth, safe in his crib. Williams apparently intended to spare the boy because he left a note saying "only my son," which police said they found on a table near the front door of the Williams home.

Williams' wife, Marguerite, was not home during the shooting. She told police he called her from the bowling alley and asked her to meet him there.

She said her husband had left the alleys when she arrived. The woman said she rushed home because Williams had been acting despondent lately, but she arrived too late.

Police said Williams used two guns. The younger girl, Rebecca, was found in bed with a .22-caliber bullet in her chest. Kathleen was shot in the right side with a 12-gauge shotgun while she was taking a bath.

Williams then shot himself in the head with the shotgun, police said.

The family moved here from Bradford, Pa., about three months ago.

Sees State Control Of Business if No. 1 Is Passed

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—State control of the roadside industry is a "diabolical" aim of Proposition 1 on Tuesday's state election ballot, the Route 9 improvement Association charges.

The proposal would allow the state to borrow $75 million to buy land for recreation and park use by the state and municipalities. Under the proposal, the money also could be used for state-operated gasoline stations, motels, restaurants and gift shops adjacent to interstate expressways now being built. J. Gilbert Maurer, association president, said in a statement Sunday.

Maurer said that was the aim of Robert Moses, chairman of the State Council of Parks.

Maurer said the association represented 800 persons, mostly proprietors of roadside businesses, along Route 9 between Albany and Plattsburgh. Maurer operates a snack bar and frozen-custard stand near Round Lake.

GET OUT AND VOTE

Will you disenfranchise yourself?

Millions upon millions of Americans do that, in effect, each election year. In the 1956 Presidential election, only 60.4 per cent of the eligible voters in the United States exercised their right to vote. They were too lazy, too indifferent or "too busy" to spend the brief time and effort it takes to go to the polling booth.

The result is that people are elected to office, and often the highest offices, by what amounts to minority vote.

We all pay lip service to the right of free franchise. And that's the way it should be for it is the greatest single defense we have against dictatorship and political oppression. But it is meaningless unless the words are matched with deeds.

The future of freedom depends on men and women who will analyze candidates and platforms, choose those they think best capable of guiding the nation's destinies in the stormy days that lie ahead and vote accordingly.

A major effort has been made this year to increase the vote on November 8. Both major parties have undertaken programs and so have many associations including the League of Women Voters, a non-partisan organization promoting participation of citizens in government. The League's program includes encouraging citizens to register and vote and to be informed on issues and candidates.

Patriotic youngsters also are cooperating with Freedom's Foundation at Valley Forge to improve the country's voter turnout in this presidential year. Boy Scouts of Rip Van Winkle Council joined the five million Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers in the United States in the Get-Out-the-Vote Campaign. Most of the 600,000 members of the Boys' Clubs of America helped in the drive as part of their citizenship training program.

We warmly support the efforts of these people and trust their work will result in a record vote.

Americans gave their lives for the right to govern themselves. They crossed oceans for it, they fought the wilderness for it, they died in battles in the far-off corners of the world so that right would be preserved. Can any of us turn our backs on their sacrifices by refusing to take a few minutes necessary to cast our ballots.

The trouble with a lot of people is that they insist on too high an interest rate for lending a helping hand.

NOT JUST FOR SQUARES

A revival of old-time square dances is reported in numerous localities. This form of capering is gaining recruits—and not merely among oldsters. Teen-agers and those of other brackets ranging from the very young to men and women in their 20's and 30's are joining in with enthusiasm.

Through recent years it has seemed strange that square dancing, with its swing tunes and peppy "callers," was permitted to fade almost entirely from the social scene. This seemed especially odd to all who champion its superiority over jitterbug and other hop-around dance styles.

At any rate, square dancing appears to be in the midst of a comeback. When the comeback gets into full motion among young people and they find that square dancing is not just for squares, the barn floor is really going to vibrate again.

IN DEFENSE OF CITIES

Cities have been getting a rough poking-around from critics the last few years but a champion has arisen. James Marston Finch, of Columbia University, labels the city, "not merely the vessel, but the actual generator of civilization." Cities are not obsolete, he says, and will be around a long time. "They represent mankind's distilled experience, with the city as a special instrument of social organization," in his view.

CAMPAIGN — VIII

The decision in 1960 puzzles the pollsters because of the enormous size of the uncommitted voters. Actually, it is unbelievable that so many voters should not, by now, know whether they are going to vote for Nixon or Kennedy. Why, then, do they not declare themselves?

In the first place, many state that they are uncertain because they favor or oppose one or the other for reasons which they themselves reject subconsciously. Among such emotional responses are the religious issue, the beauty contest, the glibness of the debates.

Thus, the uncommitted voter is holding off saying how he is going to vote because he anticipates that he may make a last moment change. Usually, in Presidential elections, there are few last moment changes. James Farley goes by the rule that the voter's decision is generally made just after the Conventions. That has not been true this year.

New York State, with its 45 electoral votes, is a big prize in this campaign. Vice President Nixon left the management of that state to Governor Rockefeller and Senator Jacob Javits. It was most unfortunate because neither of them has done anything like an adequate job for Richard Nixon. Senator Javits knows New York City politics and the very complicated racial and religious complex of this largest city of the nation. At no point did Nixon act politically sound in New York City. Professionals of both parties say that he was sabotaged both as to timing and as to the centers he visited.

If Vice President Nixon carries New York City or New York State, it will be because of the religious issue. Unfortunately this was revived by two factors: One, the insistence of the Puerto Rican Roman Catholic bishops that it is a sin to vote for Governor Luis Munoz Marin because he favors birth control and secular schools. No matter what happens in Puerto Rico, the attention will be paid to the activities of these bishops on two Sundays, the failure of the Vatican to denounce them, and the widespread use of their activities by Republican propaganda unquestionably helped Nixon.

The other factor is that various organizations of bigots have accelerated their propaganda of hate. Many Catholics who dislike John Kennedy dislike even more the anti-Catholic propaganda. They will vote for Kennedy not because they prefer Kennedy as much as they take umbrage at anti-Catholicism.

Those who are conducting the anti-Catholic propaganda are not Republicans. They are Protestants who sincerely and fanatically believe that the Roman Curia dictates the conduct of every government headed by a Catholic. Religious movements usually run deep and when they come to the surface, their impetus can be riotous. It is unfortunate that at a time like this, in world affairs, such a question should arise in the United States. It is not likely to die down soon. For what has been raised in this campaign are many local issues, such as the large increase in parochial schools and high schools, the use of public busses by children going to parochial schools, tax exemptions for church property, etc., etc. These questions have nothing to do with the Presidential campaign but they are the side effects of the hate campaign against Catholicism.

Should John Kennedy be elected, the Republican Party will immediately face a battle for control between Senator Barry Goldwater, the Conservative leader, and Governor Nelson Rockefeller who will move to the left of the Democrats. Whereas Goldwater's conception of the loyal opposition will be for Congress to put a brake on the expenditures of an inflationary Democratic Administration, Rockefeller is likely to contend that the Democrats are not doing enough. Most of the remaining Republicans will follow Goldwater, but Rockefeller will immediately put his presently quiescent organization in high gear to capture the 1964 nomination of his party.

A Nixon victory would, at any rate, continue the Eisenhower-Nixon image of the party; a Nixon defeat would also be an Eisenhower defeat.

The Conservatives, under Goldwater, would seek Democratic support because Republican Conservatives are weary of being associated with radical Keynesian Republicans such as Senators Jacob Javits, Clifford Case, etc. They want a party which can have a clear-cut, distinct, meaningful program. They will, wherever they can, form an alliance with Conservative Democrats. They will therefore watch the vote in Virginia more closely than the vote in New York; to them Texas is more significant than California.

Link Tranquillizer Use To Higher-Traffic Toll

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Recent studies suggest there is a direct relationship between the mounting incidence of traffic accidents and the increasing use of tranquilizers.

Here are some of the facts you might want to consider before you draw any general conclusion or decide on the safe and proper course you should pursue in the conduct of your own affairs:

In 1958, there were 31,500 fatal auto accidents. Since some of these produced multiple fatalities, their death toll added up to 36,981 persons.

In 1958 there were also 900,000 nonfatal auto accidents in which 1,350,000 persons suffered injury. While most of the injured made complete recoveries, the National Safety Council estimates that about 100,000 were left with "some degree of permanent impairment."

In 1959 the death toll rose to 37,800 or an increase of about 2 per cent over the previous year.

In 1959, the National Prescription Audit indicated that Americans spent just under 100 million dollars for tranquilizers sold to patients by doctors' orders.

Estimates suggest that the total number of Americans who took tranquilizers in 1959 was in excess of 10 million (over 5 per cent) and may have been in excess of 20 million (approximately one person in seven).

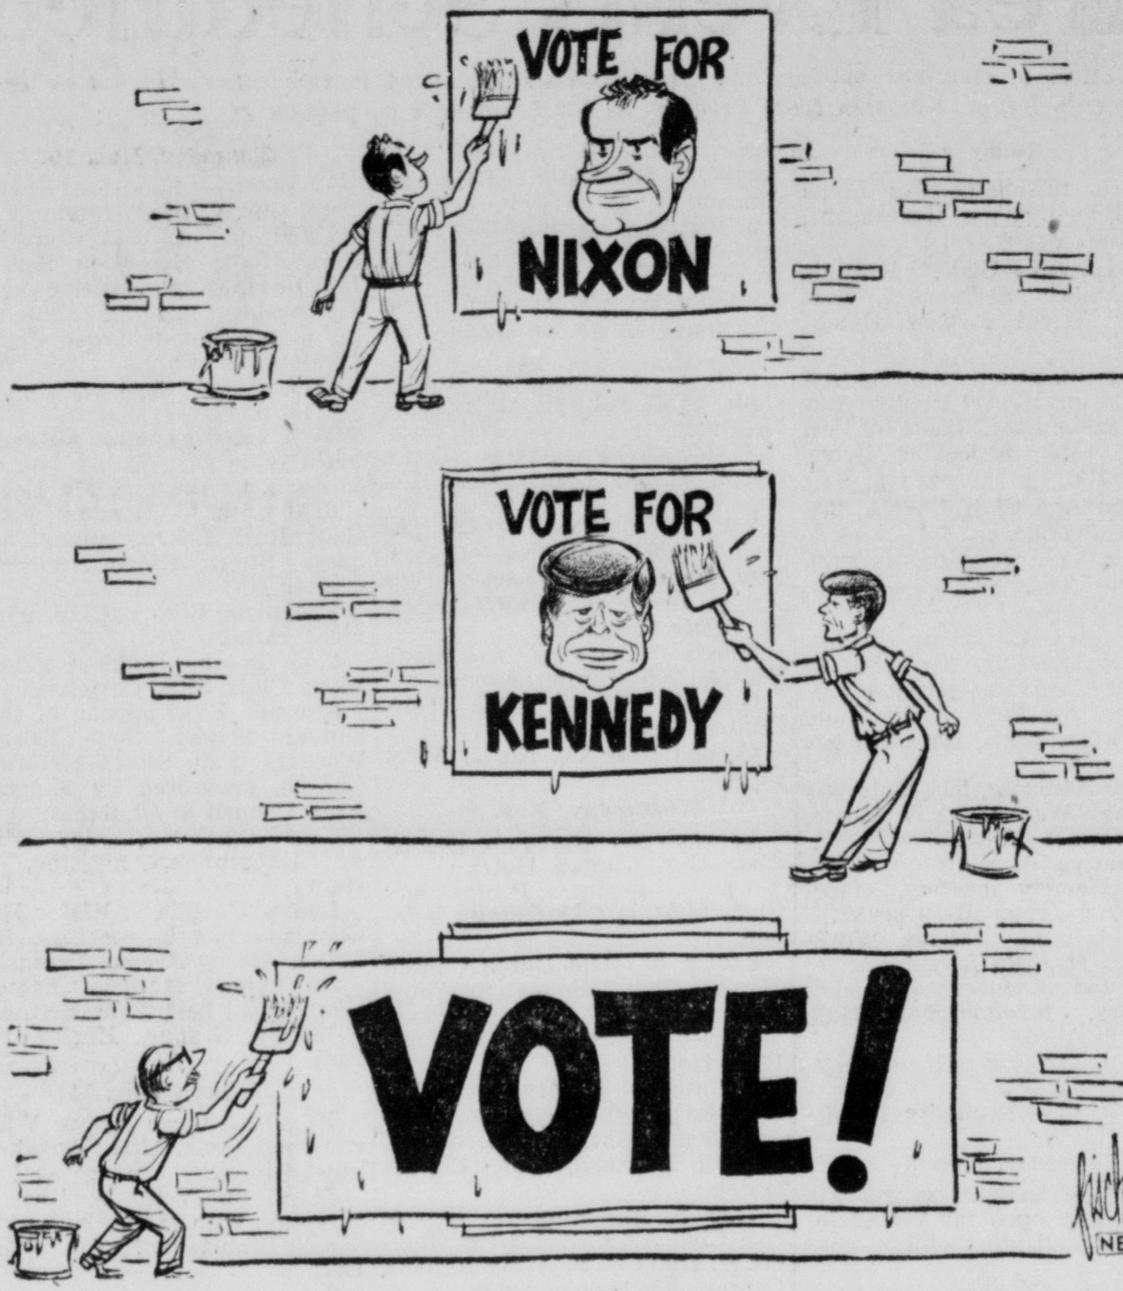

In a 90-day period, as reported by Dr. Neville Murray in the Journal of the American Medical Assn., 68 drivers taking a recently introduced tranquilizer in average doses were involved in 10 minor and 6 major road accidents. This represents a "tenfold increase" on projected statistics provided by the highway department (San Antonio, Tex.).

Reporting in the same journal, a team of investigators from Madison, Ind., consisting of a psychologist, two physicians and a state police sergeant, describe the results observed when 22 healthy volunteers were subjected to a battery of tests after having been given sham medication (placebo); normal doses of tranquilizers; an alcoholic drink in a dose that was not sufficient to raise the blood alcohol content to a level regarded as contributory or dangerous by U. S. courts, and a combination of tranquilizer and alcohol drink.

(In another column I'll tell you about some of the observations made by the Texas and Indiana investigators.)

It's YOUR Turn to be Heard

Washington News

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

New calculations based on the latest Gallup poll percentages of Catholic and Protestant voting intentions indicate that the Catholic vote going to Kennedy may be enough to swing the election to the Democrats.

In round numbers, it is now estimated that about 15 million Catholics will go to the polls, 25 million Protestants, 2 million Jews and 25 million people not affiliated with any church. The 67 million total is 5 million greater than the 1956 vote and is considered a minimum for

The Jewish vote, according to Gallup percentages, will go 69 per cent to Kennedy-Johnson, 20 per cent to Nixon-Lodge, with 11 per cent undecided. If this is correct, Kennedy-Johnson would get another 1½ million votes to 400,000 for Nixon-Lodge. This would bring the Democratic vote to 22 million, the Republicans to about 17½ million.

CHURCH MEMBERSHIP figures are taken from reports of the various denominations. U. S. Census Bureau has never made a religious affiliation count. So the figures on non-church-affiliated population are obtained by subtracting total church membership of 112 million from the total population of 181 million. Of the 69 million difference, about half are Protestant family children under ten ages, baptized but not confirmed. Catholics count baptized children as church members.

On the adult population not affiliated with any church there are no polls indicating political preferences. They could swing the election either way.

If the 25 million of them, more or less, who go to the polls vote according to Dr. Gallup's Protestant percentages, the Republicans will have the advantage—14 million to 9 million—and Kennedy's Catholic vote advantage will be wiped out.

If the nonchurch population votes like Catholics, Democrats will have the advantage, 19 million to 5 million.

If they split down the middle, the Democrats will still have the advantage by reason of Catholic votes for Kennedy.

ONE OTHER FACTOR working in Kennedy's favor is that there is a heavy concentration of Catholic voters in 10 big states with 236 of the 269 electoral votes needed to win the presidency.

The Kennedy-Johnson advantage would be 3½ million votes by this calculation. In itself this may not be enough to swing the election if other factors influence the result. But this indicates the advantage Kennedy has in the Catholic vote.

Then, he escorted the procession to the cemetery, again doffed cap and pistol and preached a graveside service.

Lloyd Man Dies In County Jail

A 79 year old veteran sentenced to 180 days in the county jail on a public intoxication charge, died 45 minutes after arrival at the jail Saturday. Sheriff Claude Bell has taken the matter up with correctional officials in a report.

Charles Green, town of Lloyd, who has been in the local jail on prior occasions under the same charge, was sentenced by Justice of the Peace Patsy J. Conforti of Town of Lloyd Saturday. Constable Fred Bragg brought the man to the jail where he and Deputy Sheriff Michael Stuper assisted Green to the "pen" before being placed in the main jail. This was 11:15 a. m. At noon a trusty reported Green "appeared to be dead." Deader Delbert Sapp investigated and Dr. Sidney Pauker, jail physician, pronounced Green dead.

Coroner Michael Galletta was notified and conducted an investigation. An autopsy was ordered. It was reported later Green had died of bronchial pneumonia.

Green, a welfare case, has a sister, Mrs. Julia Bell of 159 Washington Street, Newburgh, who was notified as well as Supervisor John J. Gaffney of Lloyd.

Shokan

SHOKAN — Sullivan County people in Shokan recently included Mr. and Mrs. John McKenna of Grahamsville. The couple report that Mr. and Mrs. Frank Low, are the parents of a son, Keith, born Oct. 24 at Veterans Hospital, Ellenville. The Lows, who also have a daughter, Aileen, resided in the Grahamsville area several years before moving to Grahamsville.

Mrs. Charles Rex is in charge of the local post office in the absence of Postmaster Betsy VonderOsten who is vacationing in Florida.

Mike Rashbaum, Kingston, was a caller in the hub of the reservoir country last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams Nuss have moved here from Brooklyn and are occupying one of the new houses on Route 28 near the Ridge Road.

Miles Monaco has employment in New York City.

Mrs. Dorville Boice, the former Florence Hover, is home again following a hospital sojourn.

Mrs. Raymond Cruthers was elected president of the Olive public health nursing committee at a meeting in Legion Hall Oct. 31.

Frank Neri, local World War 2 Veteran, made a great hit with the capacity crowd at the town Republican rally in his excellent portrayal of a young fellow of the Gay Nineties.

Howard Brooks went to Port Ewen Thursday to see his mother, Mrs. Earl Elmendorf who is in a nursing home there. His step-father and his aunt, Mrs. John Abbott, are still hospitalized in Kingston.

In return, officials of these captive countries would be invited to visit and travel freely in the United States.

TRUMAN REFUSES

The idea had scarcely been broached before Truman said he would have no part of it. The former president said in Harrisburg, Pa., his lecture dates next year would not permit it.

"It's a little late now for such a thing. If it were going to be done, it should have been done seven years ago before things started going to pot," Truman said.

There was no immediate comment from Hoover, and the White House press secretary James C. Hagerty had nothing to say about the plan in Washington.

Nixon carried his campaign to this new state nearest the Soviet Union to fulfill a promise to visit each of the 50 states.

On the flight north he wrote into the text of a prepared address at a Republican rally here the accusation that Kennedy had insulted the people when he campaigned in Alaska in early September.

Kennedy said both in Anchorage and nearby Palmer that the proposed giant Rampart Canyon power dam on the Yukon River would already be under way if Alaska still belonged to the Russians.

Nixon remarked caustically that "implicit in that was the idea you might have been better off if your region had stayed in Russian hands." He said Kennedy's statement was "part of his campaign to downgrade the United States."

A crowd of 3,000 turned out to greet Nixon at the airport here in 31 degree snowless weather. He said after addressing the overflow turnout at the 2,200-seat high school auditorium that no state had given him a more enthusiastic, warmer welcome.

Highway Patrol Captures Youths In Armed Holdup

PHILLIPSBURG, Mo. (AP) — Alerted by a hitch-hiker who warned of a holdup was planned, state troopers got off to a fast start after receiving a report of a robbery and captured two men Sunday night.

Arrested east of Springfield by four troopers were Milton Zabakofsky, 23, of Brockton, Mass., and Bob Ridley, 19, of Burnt Hills, N. Y. Officers said they were armed with two revolvers and a shotgun and had in their possession $89, one dollar less than the amount taken in a holdup here.

The Missouri Highway Patrol said Robert Pinks, 26, a hitch-hiker from Bismarck, N. D., broke away from the pair, after they tried to persuade him to join them in attempting a holdup. Pinks contacted the patrol at nearby Lebanon. While a trooper was interviewing him, the patrol was notified of the Phillipsburg holdup, and two patrol cars sped toward the scene and began a chase.

Howard Whitton, operator of the Midway Tourist Court and service station here, said two men took $90 from him, forced him to lie on the floor and fired three shots over his head and one through a tire of his car parked outside.

Pinks told the patrol the two men had planned to rob the Circle Drive Cafe and station at Lebanon. He said the pair boasted they had shot a man in a holdup somewhere in Ohio.

The patrol, investigating this report, said it was advised an attendant at an Ohio service station at Clayton, Ohio, was shot three times by two youthful robbers in an attempted holdup Saturday.

Zabakofsky and Ridley were held at Springfield.

Two Places Entered

Police were notified over the weekend of burglaries at Zwicker & Schwartz, produce wholesalers, 36 O'Neil Street, and at the Guarantee Auto Parts Co., 652 Broadway. Unknown sums in coins were taken from cigarette machines in each place. Some ransacking was reported in the Zwicker & Schwartz building, but nothing else was reported missing. Entrance was gained through a back door, police said.

Three Temperatures

Roman baths often had water of three different temperatures in separate buildings called the caldarium (hot), tepidarium (warm) and frigidarium (cool), according to Encyclopedia Britannica.

Ike Picks Farm In Gettysburg as Permanent Home

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower has picked his farm home in Gettysburg—a haven for weekend rests during his years as president—as his permanent home after he retires.

Eisenhower volunteered this information to his Gettysburg pastor as they walked down the aisle of the Gettysburg Presbyterian church.

Some worshippers overhead the President's remarks to the Rev. Robert A. Ma Askill.

MacAskill told reporters later that except for the remark the President had told him little of his future plans.

Not Taken From Lot

The car of Charles Fabiano, of 142 O'Neil Street, reported stolen last week, was not taken from the Crown Street parking lot, James S. Belfas, owner of the latter said today. Police said the vehicle was taken from near the Union-Fern store. It was recovered by Highland state police.

Seven will be elected for a term of three years starting Jan. 1, 1961.

Chamber members are permitted to vote one vote for each membership subscribed by any individual or corporation at the basic rate with a maximum of four votes regardless of the number of memberships subscribed.

Hence some ballot envelopes contain from two to four ballots.

SEVERAL BAGS FULL—The wine of the last two years filled all the casks in the West German town of Bergzabern. Resourceful villagers turned to plastic containers which must be submerged in water to equalize pressure on their thin skins lest they burst. And that is how 270,000 gallons of wine came to be placed in the city swimming pool.

Christiana Named Columbia Jurist

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—William Christiana of Hudson, who has been Columbia County surrogate, was appointed county judge today. Christiana, 33, a Republican, was named by Gov. Rockefeller to serve until Dec. 31, 1961.

Christiana fills a vacancy created by the resignation last week of Judge William E. J. Connor. The post will be filled for a regular, six-year term in next year's election.

In stepping down from the bench, Judge Connor said to continue would only hamper and be unfair to his son, attorney John G. Connor.

The son practices in County and Children's Courts, over which his father had presided, and in Hudson City Court and county justice courts, where decisions might ultimately have been referred to his father.

Connor, a Democrat, would have completed 17 years Dec. 31.

Cartagena, Spain, was founded about 243 B.C. by Hasdrubal, a brother of Hannibal, and first was called New Carthage.

Ghana and Guinea Soldiers Must Go, Kasavubu Says

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—Congo President Joseph Kasavubu was flying to New York today demand that U.N. soldiers from Ghana and Guinea get out of his chaotic country at once.

Stopping over in Paris briefly, Kasavubu told a news conference he would demand the withdrawal of all U.N. soldiers. Then he indicated he would be satisfied with the immediate withdrawal of the soldiers from Ghana and Guinea.

Ghana and Guinea are leading a drive in the U.N. General Assembly to get the Congo Parliament back in session, believing the Parliament will reinstate Soviet-supported Patrice Lumumba as premier.

Col. Joseph Mobutu, the Congo army commander, ousted Lumumba and suspended Parliament in a coup in September supported by Kasavubu. Since then Ghana soldiers have protected the ex-premier from arrest by the Mobutu-Kasavubu regime.

The U.N. assembly was scheduled to begin debate on the Congo this afternoon. Kasavubu's plane was due in New York about the time the session was to start, and his chief New York representative, Sen. Cryville Adoula, said he would seek to get the debate postponed 24 to 48 hours so Kasavubu could be on hand for the start.

Kasavubu had two advantages in forcing a showdown:

1. The assembly's rules of procedure entitle any chief of state to issue credentials for assembly representatives and the custom is to seat a chief of state without credentials.

2. A new U.N. report on the Congo says the only two fixed institutions in the young nation's political life are Parliament and the chief of state.

The report last week by Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's chief deputy in the Congo, Rajeshwar Dayal of India, practically ignored Lumumba. But it also severely criticized army commander Col. Joseph Mobutu and the commissioner's council stalled to run the country.

Hammarskjold's 18-nation advisory committee, made up of countries with troops in the U.N. task force in the Congo, already has instructed a conciliation commission being sent to the Congo next week to work for restoration of parliamentary democracy.

National Survey By Gallup Shows Division of Vote

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—The Gallup poll's final nationwide survey of the presidential race shows following division of the popular vote among likely voters: Kennedy-Johnson 49 per cent. Nixon-Lodge 48 per cent. Undecided 3 per cent.

George Gallup, director of the American Institute of Public Opinion, gave the figures in a copy-right story.

Gallup also said in part that considering only those voters who expressed a preference, the division would be:

Kennedy-Johnson 51 per cent.

These results are based upon interviewing conducted during the period Nov. 1 through Nov. 4. This final survey, therefore, does not register the impact of President Eisenhower's campaigning in the final days of the last minute appeals and efforts on television by Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.22 at 588.29. Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds were irregular.

Financial Transactions (Morgan Davis & Co.)

NEW YORK (AP)—Blue chips made some good gains but were clipped back again this afternoon as the stock market kept a ragged edge to the upside in pre-election trading.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .30 to 211.50 with the industrials up 1.20, the rails off .20 and the utilities unchanged.

The list was surprisingly strong at the start, in view of election uncertainties, as high quality issues continued their progress of last week. As the Dow Jones industrial average pushed close to the $50 level, which has proved an upside barrier in the past, profit-taking cut back many gains and there were increased losses.

Assorted gains among chemicals, tobacco, electrical equipment, aircraft and motors kept the list on the upside. The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.22 at 588.29. Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds were irregular.

GET AN ANCHOR DOWN
 Thrift and savings always pay off. And their rewards are often a social and economic blessing.

In 1935, a professional man given to extravagance unexpectedly received a $2,000 fee. He had been through five difficult years — 1930 to 1934. The depression had hit him hard and his improvidence of earlier years had been a cruel experience.

When this fee came in, he asked himself: "What shall I do with it?"

He decided to abandon his prodigality and change his spending habits. He saved the $2,000. With $964 of this money he bought himself a $25,000 25-year endowment insurance policy and he deposited the rest of the money in a savings bank as a reserve against the day when it might be difficult to pay the premium.

As this article appears, he will be getting a check from the maturing endowment policy for over $31,000 — $25,000 face value of the policy and more than $6,000 in accumulated dividends which he has never taken.

This one policy has completely changed his financial life. When the policy for $25,000 was delivered, his waste-extravagance was made into a thrifit-saving pattern. He is now 60 years of age and the 1935 fee of $2,000 has transformed his social and economic life.

Money slips through the fingers of millions of improvident persons every year. Easy come, easy go is too prevalent an economic philosophy. A sound thrifit and saving habit should be established early in life. Thrift and saving are tremendously accumulative.

This professional man, about to receive $31,000 from a life-insurance company, has been saving now for 25 years and his stocks and bonds are worth more than $75,000.

A single act 25 years ago has proved to be his financial salvation.

Contractual saving is best for persons addicted to waste and extravagance. And very often an insurance policy is an ideal contractual instrument. Yearly premiums are due and if the insurance is kept in force, compulsory savings are required. Thousands of financially careless persons have had the course of their lives changed through the purchase of a life or endowment insurance contract.

The year-end is upon us. Many financially ill people will be getting bonuses, cash gifts and profit-sharing payments within the next few weeks.

It is suggested that readers whose experiences parallel those of the professional man in 1935 carefully consider what should be done with extra dollars. At age 30, a life insurance policy for $10,000 does not cost much.

Every year I get hundreds of letters from readers in their fifties and sixties with a pathetic amount of insurance who have been chasing speculative rainbows in the stock market unsuccessfully for decades.

Establishing an estate of from $10,000 to $100,000 is often best accomplished by buying insurance contracts early in life.

Insurance contracts frequently act as an anchor to a person's social and economic life.

Here's why I want you to use that second vote:

The ILGWU won the first five-day work week so, for two days a week, I have my Daddy and Mommy to myself. If ILGWU ever gets a four-day work week, I'll really be living.

ILGWU really believes in education: supports its own program, better schools, scholarships. That's for me. What if my folks do say I'm too smart?

ILGWU helps those who help others: community chest, hospitals, clinics, day nurseries. Personally, I can take care of myself, at the moment. But who knows what's ahead?

ILGWU does a lot for people with little money: provides a summer camp, cooperative housing, medical care. With my limited bank account, I'm definitely interested.

ILGWU helps keep my Mom looking pretty. It's part of an industry that makes American women the world's best dressed. If I'm smart enough to be interested in all this other stuff, do you think I'd miss a trick like that?

So do me — and yourselves — a favor. And help protect American buying power, too. Look for the label of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union in women's and children's wear, and exercise all your voting rights.

"I have tried in the last year and a half to meet as many of the 395,000 people in our District as possible. Of the some 20,000 I have met I was most struck by one thing: people, more and more, are politically independent. 'Habit-voting,' whether Democratic or Republican, is declining. Some think this is a bad sign. I think it good. I have campaigned as an independent because I want the freedom to say what I think—to represent honestly a majority of those in this District. I couldn't do this as a doctrinaire Democrat or Republican."

"True representation, finally, is a personal business. Who is the Representative? What does he really think? Will he work for us? These are the questions asked. Well, I have done my best, day after day, to give answers. I am told that I am too independent, that the people don't want to know hard facts. I disagree. I think all of us, as never before, are aware of our responsibility as voters. I think we can accept more honesty than our professional politicians believe we can. If I didn't think that, I would not be a candidate for Congress. Yet I feel that I am not alone. I believe there is a real majority in our District who prefer honesty, independence, and vigor, to the old political stereotypes. In that faith, I have been a candidate, and now that the speeches are over and the time of choice approaches, I turn to you for the first time and ask for your support."

NEW YORK (AP)—It may be a good thing that Allen Funt and his "Candid Camera" crew decided to hold up their filmed political poll until a late date—Sunday night—in the campaign.

They asked 35 customers in an airlines office whether a candidate known to have scruples should be removed from the ticket, whether vice president Richard M. Nixon was the more retroactive candidate and if they thought Sen. John F. Kennedy was the more superfluous speaker.

Fifteen or so of the prospective voters who were asked these non-sense questions expressed firm opinions even though they obviously had no idea what the words—scruples, retroactive and

Meanwhile, television continued to be full of politics over the entire weekend.

In addition to many long and short paid telecasts, there were the usual analyses, interviews, projections, plus frequent plugs by each network for its forthcoming election night coverage.

The campaign managers of the two presidential candidates (on "Meet the Press") acknowledged they thought the campaign went for too long a time in this era of electronic hustings. It's almost over now, but we've all had a pretty steady TV diet of politics and politicking since July. During the last couple of weeks there have been more political programs than westerns.

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—Voters in the nearby Town of Lansing will be asked in Tuesday's election what to do with a $12,000 legacy of the American Revolution.

If voters approve a proposition, the Lansing School District—which would like to use the money for library books—would get about 90 per cent of the "Town School and Gospel Fund," as the $12,000 is called.

The fund grew from the sale of two 640-acre tracts set aside for church and educational use when Revolutionary soldiers were rewarded with similar tracts for their services.

Rocky Orders Study Of State Worker Pay

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller, advised that salaries paid state workers may be lagging behind those paid by industry in New York, has ordered a study to compare them.

The findings will guide the state in making salaries more competitive, the Republican governor said.

He said the survey will be conducted by a private management-consultant firm, McKinsey and Co. of New York City and Washington, D.C.

Dr. William J. Ronan, the governor's secretary and Dr. T. Norman Hurd, state budget director, recommended the survey.

There were indications, they told the governor in a letter, that state salaries were not sufficiently competitive, despite a 5 per cent increase last year and higher state retirement contributions this year. The contributions raised employees' take-home pay to 7 to 8 per cent.

The Civil Service Employees Association, which claims to represent most of the 100,000 state employees, said a study it had made showed "that we are now behind by 15 per cent."

whose four children died in their blazing home, remained in shock today but were reported in satisfactory condition in a hospital.

The children, Fred, 11, Patricia, 10, Kathleen, 7, and Lorraine, 5, perished Saturday night in their bungalow in suburban Rotterdam.

Firemen had to restrain the mother, Mrs. Edna McKay, from entering the house in response to the children's screams. She and her husband had been shopping for a dress for one of the daughters and returned home 10 minutes after the fire was discovered, police said.

Arthur Bassler, 80, the landlord who lived in the basement, told police he was in his apartment when the lights went out and he smelled smoke. He was unable to reach the children, he said. He was not injured.

Investigators said they found evidence that the fire may have been caused by faulty wiring or by a back-blast of gases in a coal furnace.

WE REPEAT!

INDEPENDENTS for GORE VIDAL ASK: WHY WON'T MR. WHARTON TELL THE TRUTH?

As independent voters we would like to correct statements made in a paid political advertisement which appeared in this newspaper Nov. 3. J. Ernest Wharton, incumbent Representative, attacked Gore Vidal on three points. Two were, simply, quotations out of context. The third was an outright misrepresentation. Mr. Wharton maintained that Gore Vidal was in favor of recognition of Red China. GORE VIDAL IS NOT IN FAVOR OF THE RECOGNITION OF RED CHINA AND NEVER HAS BEEN; he thinks it necessary to include Red China in any future nuclear disarmament program, a position favored by every thinking person from President Eisenhower to Senator Kennedy.

More important, however, was Mr. Wharton's assertion that at the last session of Congress Mr. Wharton had introduced "25 progressive bills," half of which were "adopted by a hostile Democratic majority." THIS IS NOT TRUE.

NO BILL SPONSORED BY J. ERNEST WHARTON IN HIS TEN YEARS IN CONGRESS HAS EVER BEEN ADOPTED, EITHER BY THE DEMOCRATIC MAJORITY OR BY THE REPUBLICAN MAJORITY OF THE 83RD CONGRESS (1952-54).

Mr. Wharton has claimed that various bills of his have been passed under a "Democratic label." Yet when directly challenged at the League of Women Voters meeting in New Paltz Oct. 25 and again in Poughkeepsie Nov. 1, he would not reveal what the bills were or whose label was on them. WHY? BECAUSE THESE BILLS DO NOT EXIST.

Ten years too late, Mr. Wharton is trying to make a record for himself in Congress. He is not apt to do it by childish distortions of fact. A certain amount of license is permissible to every discredited politician; nevertheless we feel that Mr. Wharton, in his freedom with the truth, has used up his share. We are confident that the voters, in their own interest, will retire Mr. Wharton next Tuesday in favor of the better man, GORE VIDAL.

AFL-CIO Weekly Sees Election As Close Contest

The Saturday issue of AFL-CIO News weekly termed the Nixon-Kennedy race close, and "a Nixon victory would not be considered a surprise," according to George E. Yerry Jr., president of Hudson Valley District Council of Carpenters.

The feature story of the weekly labor paper was headlined,

"Kennedy Given Edge by Experts."

The paper said, "Nearly all observers acknowledged, however, that the election seemed extremely close, and a Nixon victory would not be considered a surprise."

Observers thought that a Nixon triumph, if it occurred, would probably be narrow, and that only Kennedy had a good chance to something approaching an Electoral College landslide."

The weekly mentioned five states-Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, California and Texas-as states where contests could be won by a few thousand votes.

American Education Week Observance Planned at OCS

The Onteora Central Schools will participate in the observance of American Education Week scheduled for Nov. 6-12. The theme for this year's program is entitled "Strengthen Schools for the '60's." School staff members join in salute to the educational program sponsored by district residents and aided by an alert and interested Board of Education.

All area residents are extended a cordial invitation to visit Elementary Schools and classes during this week. This will permit parents to view firsthand, the quality and type of education being afforded their children. Administrative and faculty members will be happy to discuss aspects of the curricular program with interested parents. Unfortunately, Secondary Quarterly Examinations prevent the scheduling of parental visitations to the High School Department during this week.

Periodic public address announcements will be made during the week in all area schools calling the attention of students to the program theme and urge all to take full advantage of the opportunities afforded by this educational system.

Thursday evening, November 10th, has been designated as Adult Education Night by Director Edward Witko. All area adult citizens are encouraged to visit the Adult Program conducted in the Central building and observe classes in action. It is hoped that this planned program will allow district adults to view the services provided by the Adult Education Program is enabling participants to fulfill better home and Community lives.

Veterans Day Program

The school system will cooperate with area veterans organizations in the joint observance of Veterans Day and American Education Week at 2 p.m. Friday, Nov. 11.

At that time, prior to the kickoff of the Onteora-Liberty football game, members of the Olive Memorial American Legion Post 1627, the Phoenixian American Legion Post 950 and the Woodstock American Legion Post 1026 will join the Onteora School's marching band in presentation of the colors and in observance of the dual occasion.

Additionally, area residents are encouraged to view or listen to the educational programs listed below:

THE SILENT ONES!!

LINCOLN and DOUGLAS debated the burning issues of their times.
KENNEDY and NIXON debate the national issues of today.
But HERE in ULSTER COUNTY, the Republican candidates for Congress, State Senate and Member of Assembly refuse to debate! THEY ARE MUTE!

WHY??

WHY DO THEY REFUSE TO STAND UP BEFORE THEIR CONSTITUENTS AND TALK ABOUT SUCH LOCAL ISSUES AS:

- Low income levels
- High rate of unemployment
- Lack of flood control
- Kick backs
- The problems of our Senior Citizens
- The plight of the farmers
- State and Federal aid to education
- Pay-as-you-go financing
- And a host of other problems troubling our citizens.

A number of radio stations have offered free time to the Democratic and Republican candidates to debate the issues. The Democrats have ACCEPTED each invitation. The Republicans have REFUSED every invitation!!

WHY?

WE CAN ONLY CONCLUDE THAT THE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES REFUSE TO DEBATE BECAUSE THEY CAN OFFER NO SOLUTION TO THESE—OR OTHER PROBLEMS OF THE DAY.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Well, sir, it was just like the old days. Three movies were shooting at Paramount Studios. Not TV films—real feature movies.

Stage 4 had "Breakfast at Tiffany's," a title with a taint of payola, but then, Tiffany's doesn't really serve breakfast, so maybe it's all right. There was Audrey Hepburn playing a tipsy tart and getting a kiss in a hallway from her evening's escort. There was director Blake Edwards, a playful type who delayed calling "cut" so the kiss lasted longer.

Stage 2 had "The Misfits," well-

than kisses are allowed to on the screen.

Stage 4 had "On the Double," which is out to prove that there still is room on the screen for good clean fun. There was Danny Kaye, back and busy after a year in the air. He spent the time learning to fly. He was also flying high over the reception to his TV show. "Nearly everybody liked it," he said. "If everybody did, I'd worry."

There was Margaret Rutherford, England's grande dame making her Hollywood debut. She was made available by the untimely closing of her Broadway show, "Farewell, Farewell, Eugene." She explained the flop: "It was originally an American play that was Anglicized for me to play in London. Then it was Americanized for New York and something went awry."

Stage 2 had "The Misfits," well-titled film involving a curious collection of individualists.

There was Marilyn Monroe looking blonde all over—what was visible—and playing a dramatic scene with Eli Wallach, Montgomery Clift and a beagle. The actors did well with their Arthur Miller lines, but several takes were ruined by the beagle.

There was John Huston, lanky and weather-worn, working in a Hollywood studio for the first time in years. He reported his 1961 project would be a Freudian drama, about Sigmund himself. It will be shot in Vienna with a script by Jean Paul Sartre.

Ideal Job

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — For a man who likes to fish, Dr. Jack D. Burke of the University of Richmond has the ideal job. The National Institute of Health has given him $16,000 to continue for three years his study of how much oxygen different types of fish require. He will fish nearly every river, stream, pond and inlet in Virginia. He admits it is fun but says there is a lot of hard work too.

Health for All

Poison Time Bomb

Your three-year-old may be eating something now which can make him seriously sick next summer. That "something" is lead. Children under five often take in a good deal of lead, with no symptoms that mother notices for months. For some reason which nobody clearly understands yet, the youngsters develop obvious symptoms mostly after they have been exposed to hot sunlight.

Most modern indoor paints contain very little lead. But if your house is twenty years old or so, there may be under-layers of lead-containing paint on woodwork, walls and ceiling. Many children eat crumbling pieces of plaster and flakes of peeling paint, and chew the paint off window sills.

Though you can buy indoor paint with little or no lead in it, outdoor paint is still lead-loaded. So don't ever be tempted to use exterior paint for an interior job. Repair crumbling plaster, scrape and repaint flaking surfaces. And try to stop baby from chewing on the woodwork. It is not harmless, as many parents seem to think.

If lead poisoning is discovered too late, it can mean death or permanent damage to the brain and nervous system. Watch for such symptoms as lack of appetite, abdominal cramps, vomiting, pallor, irritability, drowsiness, lack of coordination. Take the baby to a doctor immediately if any of these signs appear. Lead poisoning can be cured only if it is discovered early and treated by an expert.

FIXED CHARGES—This is the second in a series of articles during American Education Week, Nov. 6-12, describing how the school tax dollar is being spent in the Kingston School District (Consolidated) during the 1960-61 school year. Fixed charges, representing the expenditure of $608,687, or 12 per cent of the total budget, are moneys that the board of education pays out as its share of the New York State Retirement System and the New York State Employees Retirement System, as well as money for uncollected taxes, insurance and judgments. Most of the expenditures in this category are required by law. Other board commitments in this area consist of payments for Social Security, health insurance, liability and building insurance. Some specific expenditures in this category in this year's budget: Contribution to State Teachers' Retirement Fund, $371,899; contribution to the State Employees' Retirement Fund, $54,541; contribution to Social Security (for all employees), $73,065; insurance on all school buildings and their contents, $15,000, and other insurance (health, compensation, general liability, surety bonds, etc.), $60,000. The next article in the series will discuss debt service, which is concerned with payments of principal and interest on bonds and short term loans.

State Poll Gives Kennedy 6-5 Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — An old-fashioned Democratic turnout in New York City will win Sen. John F. Kennedy the states 45 electoral votes, the New York Daily News predicted today.

The final tabulation of 30,000 straw votes in the newspaper's statewide presidential poll gave Kennedy a 6 to 5 edge over his Republican opponent, Vice President Richard M. Nixon. Kennedy got 54.8 per cent of the straws and Nixon 45.2.

The News said there was "nothing in the closing week to indicate a new trend." Kennedy has topped Nixon from the start.

The results reflected deep Democratic inroads into normal Republican strength in the four suburban counties—Nassau, Suffolk, Westchester and Rockland—and in Upstate New York.

In New York City, Kennedy received 61.5 per cent of the straws. Nixon led 55.1 per cent in suburban counties and 52.1 Upstate.

"These percentages," said the paper, "clearly indicate that Kennedy's New York City vote will be too big for the rest of the state to overcome."

The balloting showed that the key issues in New York State are religion, unemployment, social security. Kennedy was shown to be getting a strong Catholic vote with no organized anti-Catholic movement apparent, said the paper.

The straw vote also showed that the minority and low income groups that formed the backbone of Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal strength were swinging to Kennedy. The Kennedy appeal also was apparent among ethnic groups that had switched to the Republican line during Eisenhower years.

Use of Phones Help Burglars Get Large Haul

MANHASSET, N. Y. (AP) — Burglars using a telephone technique slipped into seven homes in this Long Island community and escaped with nearly $80,000 in loot.

The gang hit Saturday night. The burglars operated quietly and left almost no evidence. One family didn't even know about the theft until Sunday.

Police learned that dozens of phone calls had saturated the neighborhood Saturday night. The gang struck homes where they got no answer.

The biggest haul was from the home of Jerry Blaine, a record company executive, where $35,000 worth of jewels and furs was taken. Nearly all of it had only recently been recovered from an earlier burglary.

The deadline for filing applications for state police candidate examinations on November 19 is Monday, Nov. 14, it was announced today by Sgt. A. F. Matulak of Lake Katrine Barracks.

Applications must be mailed by midnight Nov. 14, or may be delivered in person to the Superintendent of State Police, Albany by Nov. 16.

Young men between the ages of 21 and 29 may secure applications at Lake Katrine Barracks. The examinations for applicants in this area will be held in Kingston High School.

The salaries range from $3,350 to $5,150 plus food or an allowance in lieu amounting to approximately $1,207. Lodging, service clothing and equipment, a retirement provision for 20 and 25 years service, medical, surgical and disability benefits are also provided.

Detailed information is available on the bulletin announcing the tests, posted at any post office and Lake Katrine Barracks.

9 Persons Killed In Bus Collision

TEMPLETON, Que. (AP) — Nine persons were killed Sunday night and at least 10 others injured when a bus and a station wagon collided head-on on a slight curve near this town 10 miles east of Ottawa.

The station wagon penetrated five feet into the bus. All five persons in the car were killed. So were bus driver Paul Poirier, 30, of Buckingham, and three of his 17 passengers.

A light snow was not believed a factor in the crash. A policeman said it was falling too lightly to obscure the drivers' vision and that most of it had blown off the highway.

The bus was en route from Hull to Buckingham.

The driver of the station wagon was Roland Lavigne, 29, of Hull. With him were his brother Emile, 21; two Ottawa men, Patrick G. Mayville, 21, and Paul Sauve, 19, and a fifth person who was not identified.

Police refused to release the names of the dead bus passengers.

WHILE HER PARENTS ARE AWAY

Question: Last year I met a boy at college whom I have been seeing quite steadily. My parents have met him several times and approve of him. In fact, he spent a weekend at my house this last summer. He does not live in this city. A friend of mine is going to be married soon and I have been asked to be one of her attendants. My boy friend has also been invited to this wedding. As he lives quite a distance away, it will be necessary for him to come here the day before. I would like him to stay at our house rather than go to a hotel. However, my parents will be out of town that weekend but I have a younger brother and sister who will be at home. Would it be proper for him to stay at my house that weekend with my brother and sister acting as chaperones? I am anxious to have your opinion.

Answer: With only a younger brother and sister for chaperones, your boy friend should go to a hotel. Otherwise you will be open to criticism.

Man and Woman Vacating Together

Question: Is it ever permissible for a man and woman in their fifties to go on a vacation together? I am a widow and have a chance to go to one of the most beautiful vacation spots with an old and trusted friend. I would pay my own way.

Answer: Strictly speaking, you two should not go on this vacation alone, but at your ages if you behave with dignity, I am sure no one will criticize you.

Showing Her Gratitude

Question: Five of our friends served as references for us in the adoption of a baby. I have thanked each of them personally, but feel that this is not enough. Would it be proper to send each one a small gift as a token of appreciation?

Answer: I think your thanks are sufficient, and later on there may be something that you, in turn, may be able to do for these kind friends.

Home Extension Service News

Lenore Clemmshaw, assistant home demonstration agent of the Ulster County Extension Service, submits the following article:

She rises up at break of day . . . Then comes the meal she races. She cooks the meals as best she may . . . And scrubs the children's faces, while school ribbons, luncheons, ribbons, too.

All need consideration. And yet the census man insists, "She has 'no occupation.' When breakfast dishes are all done, she makes a pudding maybe. She cleans the rooms up one by one. With one eye watching baby. The smoking pipe, then attacks, By way of recreation, And yet the census man insists, 'She irons for a little while.' Then the baby comes, for daddy, smiling. Returning lass and ladde. A hearty dinner next she cooks, By way of recreation, She has 'no occupation.'

A woman never need apologize for her occupation by saying "I am only a housewife." In our democracy today the home is the most important unit. It is the most important school of training for boys and girls. A homemaker surely needs to have a high respect for her job and regard it as a profession. A successful housewife or mother needs to be a jack of all trades and master of many. Her job calls for ingenuity, education and devotion of the task.

The modern mother believes the best mother is concerned with all of her family's development, not merely its physical needs. An alert well-informed woman active in the affairs of the community is a better mother than the one who claims to have no interests outside her own home and social life.

It's well to remember the saying, "If you influence a man you influence an individual, but if you influence a woman you influence a generation."

County Extension Service. She concentrated on the topic of color in decorating because "it adds so much character to any room design yet costs no extra."

Using a color wheel, Mrs. Barlow showed how basic color schemes are grouped. Clever colored paper exhibits demonstrated that the proportioning of colors is important in achieving an effective overall design. Other factors to be considered in room schemes are the combinations of tones, textures and patterns.

Mrs. Barlow suggested using a favorite painting or set of china as a starting point for choosing colors. She emphasized that color and fabrics should be selected only after viewing samples in the home setting where the lighting and intensities can be studied. Many samples of attractive groupings of carpet, drapery and upholstery fabrics were studied by the audience.

After the program, refreshments were served by the Mmes. Donald Simek, Thomas McManus, Robert Booth, Frank Ostrand, David VanEtten, and Joseph Orlando.

Envy Is Natural Emotion;
Don't Let It Be Distorted

Because her mother's arthritis had been troublesome, Mrs. D did her shopping for her. Upon delivering the groceries, she learned that her younger sister had been mama's guest for lunch.

"Have you seen Dorrie's new car?" mama asked. "Harry must be doing very well to give her a car like that. But then he has always been a good provider. He has always said that nothing was too good for his wife."

Remembering the old blue sedan parked outside mama's house, Mrs. D said angrily:

"Flashy is what I call it—all that red leather upholstery; Harry may be a good provider but nobody could ever accuse him of good taste."

Shocked, mama said, "Oh, Marg, when will you learn to overcome your jealousy of your sister? It's the green-eyed monster, dear."

Mrs. D left her mother's house feeling mean and evil. For the rest of the day she felt horribly depressed by shame of her jealousy.

Why? There was nothing either mean or evil in her wish for a new car of her own. Boiled down, that's all her "jealousy" was—a wish which acquired pride had forbidden her to acknowledge and express.

It is the moral condemnation which mama religiously associates with her childhood feelings of jealousy that has made Mrs. D so ashamed of it that she has lost sight of its original innocence.

When she failed to enthuse over her sister's birthday watch, mama and papa looked at her so mournfully that she was made to feel there was something shameful instead of natural in her wish for a watch of her own. She kept silent when she should have shouted:

"What's the matter with you? What's so awful about my wanting a watch for myself?"

In the face of her parents' moral disappointment in her, she was forced to take pride in expressing no envious wishes. Soon she lost all awareness of their original innocence. Today the only way she can express them is by angry and dishonest belittling of her sister's good fortunes.

Had Cain, that wicked boy, felt free to shout, "I want the Lord's favor, too!" he would not have slain his brother.

But moral condemnation of innocent wishes had long since

Slash Cost of Decorating
With Ingenuity, Imagination

When decorating time rolls around, imagination and ingenuity are important as money.

A tight budget was indirectly responsible for the handsome dining room of one newlywed couple. There dining table had a top made of a slab door and a base of two porch columns. They painted the table black and spattered it lightly in gold. They used inexpensive peel cane tub chairs around the table.

For a storage and serving piece, there was a marble-topped Victorian chest rubbed down to a natural dull finish. They painted the walls of the room hot pink and hung two black coach lights on one wall.

Cover the walls with white vinyl tiles and put a fluffy dark rug by the bed. Use a striped dust ruffle and white quilted bedspread.

Paint your desk white with a dark green interior. A piece or two of green glass would be pretty.

Dear Polly: A year ago we painted our living room with semi-gloss paint. We were proud of it until a friend said, "Nobody but nobody uses paint like that on living room walls." We like the gloss finish. It's easier to wash off sticky finger marks. We'd like to know what your opinion is before we paint the bedroom. — Mrs. L. Q. W.

Dear Mrs. L. Q. W.: Pay no attention to your meddlesome friend if you like the semi-gloss paint. However, I do agree that flat makes a far softer and prettier background.

Dear Polly: I'm a high school girl. For one of my projects, I'd like to redecorate my room. Furniture is dark mahogany; accessories and curtains now are pink. I'd like to paint an old desk white. What color should walls, woodwork, floor and accessories be? I'd like to use pink in my scheme and I have

Confirm $15,000 Grant for Study Of Urban Renewal

A contract for the marketability study phase of urban renewal can now be completed with assurance that the $15,000 originally earmarked for the survey is available, Mayor Edwin F. Radel said today.

Notice some time ago from the New York office of the Housing and Home Finance Agency proposed cutting the sum to $5,000. This, the mayor told an official by telephone, would be inadequate for the study as planned, and he then gained verbal assurance that the original sum would be approved.

A recent letter from the HHFA reassured the mayor that the city could proceed with its original plans. The work is to be done by Larry Smith Associates for Raymond & May Associates, planning consultants.

Data pertinent to completion of urban renewal planning will be compiled in the marketability study.

Earth, Stars and Man*(19) Charcoal and History

by Don Oakley and John Lane

One of the new tools being used in the search for man came out of World War II research into the atom.

In 1946, chemist Willard F. Libby theorized that carbon-14, a radioactive form of ordinary carbon (familiar as charcoal), is manufactured in the upper atmosphere by bombardment from cosmic rays. It mixes with the carbon dioxide breathed by plants and passes into the animals which eat them. Since carbon-14 decays at a certain rate, it should be possible to measure the amount still left in once living things and determine their age. (The process is complicated, but basically involves counting the ticks on a Geiger counter.)

It was first verified that carbon-14 is present in all living things in equal amounts all over the world. Then dead matter, whose age was known, was tested (for instance, a piece of wood from an Egyptian burial boat). The method was found to work with close accuracy.

Archaeologists at last had a calendar that could take them back far beyond recorded history. Unfortunately, carbon-14 dating is limited to not much over 50,000 years. There is still a tremendous time gap between it and the uranium method of dating rocks. Men are constantly searching for other natural calendars to fill that gap.

Another form of measuring has been developed by another chemist, Nobel Prize-winner Harold C. Urey. He found that a radioactive form of oxygen—oxygen-18—is absorbed into the shells of sea creatures. The rate varies with the temperature. With this method, it has been possible to measure the temperature of the ocean millions of years ago. Somewhat like the rings on a tree, the yearly growth of the fossil shells records that year's temperature for all time.

Fossil seashells are brought up in the order they were laid down by means of deep-sea borings. By drilling into the sea bottom, man is learning more about the history of the world. One of the most ambitious projects is the "Mohole," the plan to drill through the earth's crust into the zone of floating rock known as the mantle. Preliminary borings may be made in 1961. One possible result may be clues to the secret of how life began.

L. Hamilton Krissler, owner and operator of the Krissler Business Institute, Poughkeepsie, will speak on "The Importance of an Education."

In addition to being past president of Mid-Hudson Chapter of the National Association of Accountants and secretary-treasurer of the University Club, Krissler is also secretary of the advisory board of the Salvation Army. This year he is also on the faculty of Marian College, the newly expanded Liberal Arts College in Poughkeepsie.

Well-known as an after-dinner speaker, Krissler has given hundreds of commencement addresses and lectured before many service clubs and parent-teacher groups, earning for himself the title, "Humorist of the Hudson Valley."

Wednesday's meeting has also been designated as Father's Night with a prize to be awarded to the room with the highest percentage of fathers present. Refreshments and a social hour will follow the meeting.

Until repairs were completed Sunday night, 21 ships had tied up in the vicinity of the lock. Others had been held in ports at either end of the waterway.

• BRIDGE*Bidding Today Much Improved

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Written for

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

One of the questions continually asked is "How much has bridge improved over the years?" The answer is that the play is a little better, but the bidding improvement is really tremendous.

In the finals of the National team championship of 1932 the late Louis M. Watson and the writer reached seven clubs with the bidding shown in the box. Louis, who sat South finally went to seven because he correctly interpreted my bidding as a demand that he bid seven should he hold the ace of diamonds.

At the other table our opponents stopped at six clubs and no one criticized them. Instead Louis and I were congratulated on our getting to seven.

Hands such as this one led us to study ways and means to show aces simply and today any pair that has played bridge together a couple of times would have little or no trouble getting to the grand slam.

The one club opening, two heart response and three club rebid would be just about automatic. On North's next bid, he would bid four no-trump to ask for aces. South would reply five diamonds to show his one ace and unless North suffered from "grand-slamophobia" (fear of ever bidding seven) he would go right to seven clubs.

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Price cutting and sales competition have bitten into the profits of the chemical companies. But this seems only to have sharpened their drive to outpace one another in turning cheap and plentiful raw materials into profitable synthetics—either new or cheaper ones.

The prospective harvest to be reaped from new man-made materials continues to lure members of other industries into the field.

Begin in Laboratory

The battles start in the laboratory where more than $400 million a year is being poured into research. Then they spill into the marketplace. Some who watch the industry closely feel the current profit squeeze may be just the catalyst to turn today's increasing competition into show-downs—with a number of casualties a good probability.

Inroads of price cutting and slower business into chemical profit margins shown in first reports of July-August-September earnings. They average 13 per cent lower than in the summer of 1959 and 20 per cent down from the April-May-June quarter of 1960. The industry's reports for the first nine months of this year trail the year-ago figures by 7 per cent, although a number of other industries topped their showings.

Entry of other industries into the chemical business has gained momentum in recent years, undeterred by the average capital investment of $27,000 for each chemical worker, which is larger than in many other lines of endeavor.

Parade Includes Many

The parade has included meat packers, whisky distillers, soap makers, photographic equipment producers, oil companies, metal processors.

Examples of the competitive struggle within the chemical industry: 1. There were two chemical companies producing polyethylene immediately after World War II. Today 17 do. 2. Ten years ago the American farmer had five major suppliers of anhydrous ammonia. Today 30 companies compete in meeting his fertilizer needs. Similar examples can be found in paints, synthetic fibers and plastics.

One chemical discovery that caught on fast and opened a wide market for itself while competing fiercely with other synthetics and natural materials is the relatively newcomer isocyanate. This man-made molecule uses natural gas or salt as a starting point and then combines with other ingredients to produce urethane.

From this can be fashioned rocket fuels, featherweight foam mattresses, insulated ski and sailing clothes, or wear resistant applications for roller skating rinks.

Aims at New Cycle Growth

One sideline to the keen competition to develop and exploit urethane is a three-way battle now joined between urethane, latex and plastics.

Latex rubber and the long established metal spring for the mattress and furniture cushioning market.

The chemical industry sports many other intra-urban contests.

But with new cost-cutting and marketing programs plus some luck from the research laboratories' future findings—the industry hopes to take off by the end of next year on a new growth cycle. It aims at matching the record of the last 25 years when its average growth rate was 7 per cent a year—well above that for manufacturing as a whole.

The chemists hope that in the new cycle profit margins will be restored to boot.

A gaping seam, a snap off or a ripped hemline is the signal to start immediate repairs. Otherwise, you find yourself in a last-minute dilemma with a favorite dress not fit to wear.

STOP SOCIALIZED HOUSING VOTE NO PROPOSITION #2

THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT PROPOSITION NO. 2

The first thing you should know is that this question proposes to spend $10 million a year—not $5 million as some voters might think from quick reading of the fine print. Here's why: Every dollar of state tax money given to the public housing projects must be matched by the gift of an equal amount from local tax money, either in cash or tax exemption. That matching is required by state law, so the $5 million a year in the question on the ballot automatically becomes $10 million a year under the law.

The second thing you should know is the number of years this giveaway of tax dollars is to go on. Of the $10 million yearly amount, $9,700,000 would be the tax cost each year for 50 years. The other $300,000 would be an annual cost for 25 years. Multiply those out and add them together and you will find out for yourself that Question No. 2 on the ballot this November would cost taxpayers $492,500,000.

YOU AND YOURS MUST PAY

isn't cheap. It costs $16,590 for each apartment. Compare this with YOUR own home! The construction cost per room for public housing projects now under construction in the state averages $2,641; for private housing $2,000. So YOU are required to pay more than the value of your own home to provide tax-exempt housing for those who may make more money than YOU.

Public housing actually costs MORE than comparable private housing. Every dollar the state uses on tax-exempt Public Housing is borrowed—interest must be paid on it (just the same as you do on your own mortgage). It also must be paid back. This means YOU, the taxpayer are helping to build someone else's home while paying for YOUR own.

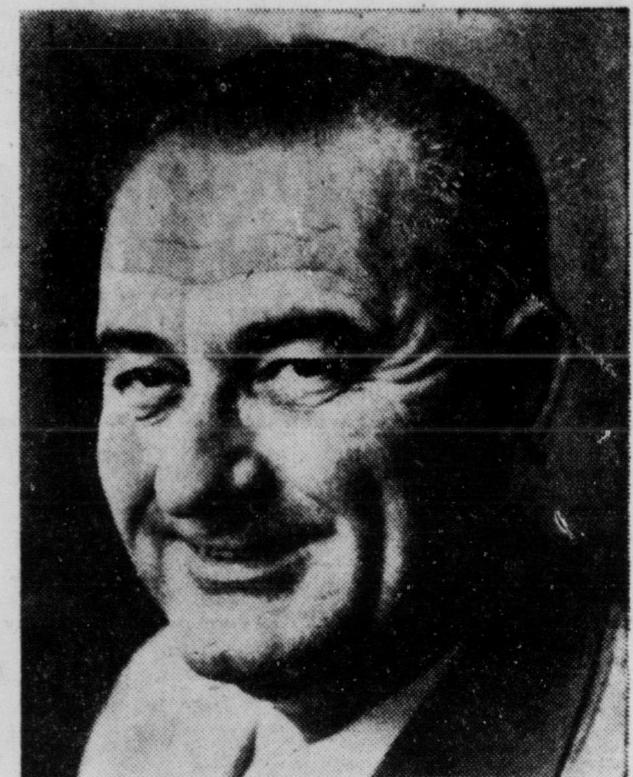

In other words, YOU must pay double. Public Housing doesn't make sense when YOU are forced to pay for it—for people who make as much or more money than you do!

Saugerties Overpowers Roosevelt, 51-14, for DCSL Title

Talmadge, Francello Spark Champs With 3 Touchdowns

BY ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Exploding for three touchdowns in an action packed first quarter, the rambling Saugerties Sawyers clinched the DCSL grid championship with an easy 51-14 triumph over Roosevelt Central Saturday at the high school field.

The win was the fifth straight for the Sawyers after an opening game tie with Red Hook and the championship ends a three year reign by Highland. Saugerties will close its season on Saturday against Beacon in a bid for an undefeated season.

Four players had a hand in the rout as the home side set a school record for most points scored in a single contest. Quarterback Bob Francello handled the reigns in superb fashion and also scored three touchdowns and passed for another.

Russ Goes 88 Yards

Halfback Russell Talmadge showed the partisan home fans some more of his electrifying speed with a 88 yard run. He also tallied twice more on short jaunts. Fullback Al Hrdlicka and reserve halfback John Guanago also tallied as the Sawyers gave the finest offensive show of the year.

Saugerties put the opening kickoff in play on the 37 and scored in 11 plays to start the proceedings. Paladino and Lou Spada were the big gainers on the drive, climaxed when Francello went across from the one on a quarterback sneak. A bad center killed the extra point bid.

It took just four plays for the winners to light up the score board again. Hrdlicka pounced on an FDR fumble on the 15 on the second play from scrimmage.

After that, it was jarring Al for a 14 yard run to the one and then Francello, on another quarterback sneak. Hrdlicka's kick was short of the mark.

The king sized visitors still had the fumbleitis disease and Sawyer tackle Steve Crank fell on a bobble on the Roosevelt 23 at the kickoff. This time it took four tries to reach the end zone. Talmadge did the heroics with a neat 17 yard run. Big Robbie Williams of the Presidents hit Russ back on the 15 but the speedy halfback kept on going.

Drive Stalls

Roosevelt started a drive late in the first period and four plays into the second period but it was stalled on the SHS 13. From that point the point happy home eleven struck again.

After a penalty had shoved Bill Straub's club back to the 12, Talmadge ripped for 22 yards to the 34. Then Francello threw a screen pass to Hrdlicka. He grabbed it near the line of scrimmage and simply outran the defense. The play covered 66 yards and was one of beauty. Talmadge ran for the PAT to make the score 25-0.

Pioneers Defeat Beacon, 35-24

Poughkeepsie High spotted the home side a pair of first quarter touchdowns and then toppled Beacon, 35-24, Saturday with Steve Albrecht in a starring role. The lanky end caught two touchowns, fell on his own blocked punt in the end zone, kicked five extra points and played a bangup game on defense.

Richie Lunsford scored for Beacon on the first play after he recovered Jim Gordon's fumble on the PHS 20. Later in the same period, Bill Komisar pitched a flat pass to Bert Exum and the speedster sizzled 25 yards for a touchdown.

Exum took the ensuing kickoff and romped 90 yards to a touchdown. This put the Beacons ahead. Then the Presidents tallied two touchowns, one on a 17 yard drive, this time on the 17, the champs took a five yard penalty for being offside and then gave the ball to Talmadge. Russ cut for the outside, received a key block from Schirmer, and flew 88 yards to paydirt. Al Giannotti ran for the extra point to hike the margin to 32-0 at halftime. By this time the only question was by how many points the Sawyers would win.

Takes Two Plays

The Presidents received the third quarter kickoff, couldn't move and had to punt. Saugerties put the pigskin in play on the 48 and tallied in two tries. Talmadge caught the defense by surprise, passing 46 yards to Schirmer, who was caught on the two. Talmadge took it the remaining yards and Wayne Abbott's kick made it 39-0.

At this point, Coach Straub sent in the reserves and the visitors moved 60 yards for a score. Fulmer climaxed the march with a five yard slant of tackle and Paul Brenner made the extra point.

Giammotti, the fiery co-captain of the title holders, intercepted an FDR pass on the 20 early in the fourth quarter. Talmadge ran 25 to the 45 and then Francello covered the remaining distance with some nifty broken field running. This made it 45-7.

Towner, a standout for the visitors, took Hrdlicka's kick on the 15 and headed for the sidelines. He received a couple of blocks and simply outraced the opposition. The run covered 85 yards. Brenner then placekicked the point after from the 20 after the FDR eleven had been tagged with a couple of penalties.

The Saugerties outfit went over the half century mark near the end with Guagano doing the honors from the four. This was the end of a 60 yard drive.

Impressive Statistics

The statistics show the power of the Sawyers. The team scored almost at will against a Roosevelt club that had beaten Wappingers Falls and Cardinal Fairley Military Academy in league contests.

Coaches Straub and Seither were carried off the field by the happy players and given the traditional "dunking" in the shower. It was the first championship for the club in a DCSL and a richly deserved one.

Colgate began its 1960 football season with an impressive upset of Cornell. The Red Raiders now would like nothing more than to pull another upset—over Syracuse next Saturday.

The odds of a Colgate victory in the finale of the long Syracuse-Colgate series are extremely slim. The game will be played at Syracuse next Saturday.

Syracuse, Colgate and Cornell all went down to defeat in last Saturday's action.

The Orange, last year's national champions, was unable to contain Army and lost, 9-6, before a Yankee Stadium crowd of 66,000 in New York City. The setback was the second in row for Syracuse, which had won five games this season and 16 in a row prior to Pittsburgh's triumph over the Orange Oct. 31.

The race, at 1½ miles, carries a purse estimated at $20,000.

Stormy Dream ($7.30) won his third straight race last Saturday night when he captured the $6,250 Handicap Pace. The 4-year-old son of Knight Dream defeated the even-money favorite, Culver Pick, by a head in 2:06 2-5 over a sloping track. Uncle Dave was third.

For the season, Colgate's record is 2-5.

New Paltz, Onteora Battle to 12-12 Tie in UCAL Contest

Three Clubs Tie For Top Position In League Race

New Paltz and Onteora battled to a 12-12 UCAL deadlock Saturday and threw the final standings of the circuit race into a triple deadlock. The Huguenots, Indians and Rondout Valley finished with a pair of victories and two ties and will share the title.

The final standings:

Onteora	2	0	2
Rondout Valley	2	0	2
New Paltz	2	0	2
Marlboro	1	3	0
Wallkill	0	4	0

Coch Bill Russell of New Paltz filed a protest during the game for what he called "incompetent" officiating. He pulled his squad off the field for a couple of minutes in the fourth period because of some calls against New Paltz.

Athletic director Ed Witko said there is no basis for the complaining by Russell. He said four officials, instead of the normal three, were used in the game because of its importance.

Muhlich Scores

The Indians moved 77 yards in 12 plays after putting the opening kickoff in play. Halfbacks Len Muhlich and Joe DiGiovanni and fullback Terry Thompson took turns lugging the pigskin. Muhlich took it over from the two. Jay Gordon's try for the extra point was a little low.

The visitors, who closed their season with five wins and a pair of ties in seven starts, struck back. Quarterback Biff Longfield dashed 67 yards for the tying touchdown. A buck through the line for the point after failed.

Onteora started a drive from the 39 late in the first period and on the first play of the second quarter, Muhlich bulled his way into the end zone from the one. However, Len was thwarted on his bid for the extra point.

Tony Fiordilino, Eddie Krueger and Longfield sparked the Huguenots to a tying touchdown in the third period with Krueger going the final two yards. Otto Schue made a game saving tackle on Fiordilino as he attempted to run for the winning point.

The Indians were stopped on the New Paltz eight in the fourth quarter and quarterback Dick Bartsch intercepted a New Paltz pass on the five just before time ran out to stop a Huguenot bid.

New Paltz has won a title outright and shared two others the past three seasons. This is the first triple tie in the circuit since it started eleven man football.

Gophers Are Headed For Bowl

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The world college football today belongs to Minnesota's resurgent Gophers and their oft-maligned coach, Murray Warhaft. They hope they can hold onto it a bit longer than some of the other kingpins this season.

The Gophers and Warmath clinched 19 years of "coming back," Saturday when they upped their season record to 7-0 by beating Iowa's unbeaten Hawkeyes.

Missouri, a 16-6 victor over Colgate, took over the Big Eight slot and has an 8-0 mark, the most wins for a Missouri team since Don Farout's team had an 8-3 record in 1948.

A Minnesota victory over Purdue will assure the Gophers at least a tie for the Big Ten title and possibly start its admirers humming in anticipation of a trip to the Rose Bowl. Ohio State, ranked fifth and a 36-7 winner over Indiana, plays the Hawkeyes and the loser is finished in the race.

Missouri, ranked second nationally before its Colorado victory, plays Oklahoma. The Sooners won't make it 13 Big Eight titles in a row after last week's 10-6 loss to Iowa State. But Kansas is still around and if it beats Colorado this week, then the Missouri-Kansas game the following Saturday will produce the conference champion.

Things get interesting elsewhere this week. Washington, ranked seventh before beating Southern California 34-0, can nail down a spot to defend its Rose Bowl title by beating California and winning the Big Five crown.

Duke, whose 19-10 victory over previously unbeaten Navy was a surprise Saturday, can gain at least a tie for the Atlantic Coast Conference title by beating Wake Forest. Yale, one of the nation's unbeaten with a 7-0 mark after whipping Penn 34-9, plays Princeton in what will probably be the Ivy League title game. Both are 5-0 in loop play. Each has two games left.

Mississippi, ranked sixth, tries to keep its Southeastern Conference lead against Tennessee. The eight-ranked Vols were upset 14-7 by Georgia Tech and were kept from tying Ole Miss for the SEC lead. Mississippi was out of the conference beating Chattanooga 45-0. Auburn and Florida both 4-1, are right behind.

PLAYS SMU

Arkansas' 3-0 upset of 10th-ranked Rice on Mickey Cissell's last-minute field goal puts the Razorbacks atop the Southwest Conference and they play winless Southern Methodist this week. Rice, in second place, meets Texas A&M.

Virginia Military, alone in first place in the Southern Conference after Davidson knocked off Virginia Tech 9-6, meets The Citadel. VMI beat outsider Lehigh last week, 18-14.

Syracuse, ranked ninth, saw its season pretty well go up in smoke when Army handed it a 9-6 licking. It was the second straight loss after a 16-game victory streak.

The only other unbeaten in action, Utah State (8-0), took first place in the Skyline Conference with a 17-13 victory over Wyoming. New Mexico State (7-0) was

Houston, Los Angeles To Meet in Top Contest

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The respective leaders of the two divisions of the American Football League meet next Sunday in what promises to be the highlight game of the day.

Houston, which is dominating the Eastern Division with a 6-2 record, takes on Los Angeles (5-3) at Los Angeles, and the Oilers loom as favorites because of their consistently strong offense that has rolled up a total of 246 points. Los Angeles has a slight edge in defense, yielding only 162 points in its eight games.

Houston gave another impressive demonstration of its power Sunday when it defeated Denver 45-25, thanks to the passing of George Blanda and the running of Billy Cannon and Dave Smith.

Blanda threw four touchdown passes as the Oilers completed 17 of 34 for 256 yards. Frank Tripucka, Bronco quarterback, threw three touchdown passes, but his team couldn't match the ground attack of the Oilers in the second half. The Houston margin at the half was only 17-15.

Dallas edged back into contention in the Western Division with a convincing 45-28 victory over the Buffalo Bills. The Texans blew the game wide open in the third period with three touchdowns.

The running of Abner Haynes and the passing of Cotton Davidson highlighted the Texans' attack. Haynes scored three touchdowns, two of them on passes from Davidson. Tommy O'Connell sparked the Bills' belated fourth-period rally which brought two touchdowns.

Those were the only two AFL games played Sunday. Last Friday day Los Angeles defeated New York 21-7 and Boston edged Oakland 34-28.

NFL Races Tight as Giants, Eagles, Colts Get Victories

By MIKE RATHET
 Associated Press Sports Writer

The massive log jam that has created a three-team joust for solid footing in each division of the National Football League showed no signs of cracking today despite Philadelphia's continued success and Baltimore's return to form.

Three key tests of strength that attracted huge crowds Sunday left the Eagles with a slight edge over New York and Cleveland in the Eastern Conference while Baltimore pulled in front of Green Bay and idle Chicago in the Western sector.

Philadelphia knocked off Pittsburgh 34-7 before 58,324 home fans as Norm Van Brocklin pitched three scoring aerials to Tommy McDonald for the victory that broke a tie for the top spot with Cleveland.

The Browns bowed to the Giants 17-13 in Cleveland before a record home throng of 82,872 and dropped into third place with a 4-2 record. The Eagles, seeking their first title since 1949, are 5-1 with the defending Giants at 4-1.

At Baltimore, 57,808 watched reliable Johnny Unitas put on a four-touchdown passing performance for a 38-24 triumph over the Packers and boost the two-time NFL champion Colts back into the lead with a 5-2 mark.

Green Bay fell into second place with a 4-2 slate while the Bears stayed in contention at 3-2-1.

In other games, St. Louis smashed Washington 44-7, Detroit blanked San Francisco 24-0 and Los Angeles beat Dallas 38-13.

Van Brocklin, in his 12th and probably last season of pro competition, hit McDonald with 24, 39 and 26-yard touchdown strikes for Nixon gained Utah (4) from the doubtful group. But Illinois (27), Wyoming (3) and Hawaii (3) moved from the Nixon column into the doubtful category.

Nixon has been saying he senses a strong tide of victory running in his favor. But with the possible exception of Ohio (25), the AP survey did not show any clear signs of such a tide.

Kennedy's Roman Catholic religion was reported as contributing to the doubtful status of Minnesota, (11), Texas (24), North Carolina (14), Missouri (13) and Kentucky (10).

However, in some large industrial states with sizable Catholic populations there was some indication that Kennedy's religion was an advantage.

The final AP survey gives these states to Kennedy, with margins ranging from substantial to minute:

Alaska (3), Alabama (11), Arkansas (8), California (32), Connecticut (8), Georgia (12), Louisiana (10), Maryland (9), Massachusetts (16), Nevada (3), New Jersey (16), New York (45), Rhode Island (4), West Virginia (8), and Wisconsin (12).

These states are listed as Nixon by varying margins:

Delaware (3), Florida (10), Idaho (4), Iowa (10), Indiana (13), Kansas (8), Maine (5), North Dakota (4), New Hampshire (4), Nebraska (6), Oklahoma (8), Oregon (6), South Carolina (8), South Dakota (4), Utah (4), Virginia (12), and Vermont (3).

Doubtful states viewed as possibly leaning toward Kennedy were Mississippi (8), Missouri (13), North Carolina (14), Ohio (25), and Tennessee (11).

Doubtful states possibly leaning toward Nixon were Kentucky (10), and Wyoming (3).

The other tossup states, not listed as leaning either way, were Arizona (4), Colorado (6), Hawaii (3), Illinois (27), Michigan (20), Minnesota (11), Montana (4), New Mexico (4), Pennsylvania (32), Texas (24) and Washington (9).

America's foremost author of western and pioneer novels, Zane Grey, was born in Zanesville, Ohio.
